Growing Readers and Writers at Longwood Gardens

Summer, 2014

Pennsylvania Writing and Literature Project
Patty Koller and Andi Ries, Teachers

Special thanks to Doug Needham, Lori Trexler and Michelle Cugini
at Longwood Gardens
for their ongoing support of this program and to Bella Garramone, intern, who helped us with technology.

We, also, thank Katelyn Bass who joyfully helped us throughout the week.

"Tree" mendous thanks to:
Dr. Mary Buckelew, Director
Karen Pawlewicz, Summer Youth Program Administrator
Ann Mascherino, Program Coordinator
And the Fabulous Staff of the PA Writing and Literature Project

Part 1

Once there was a kind bird and a grumpy bird. The grumpy bird stole the kind bird's home. "I live here," said the kind bird.

Part 2

"I don't care. Beat it," said the grumpy bird. "I live here now." The kind bird cried. That night he could not sleep. He was cold, hungry and lonely. Suddenly he had an idea.

Part 3

The next morning the kind bird built a nest and a bird house and said, "There is a home." He liked it. The grumpy bird said sorry and they became best friends.

Mrs. Koller has taught elementary school for the past 35 years. She has recently retired from the Downingtown Area School District where she was an Instructional Support Teacher. Mrs. Koller also teaches courses for teachers as part of the Pennsylvania Writing and Literature Project. She is delighted to be teaching at Longwood Gardens where she gets to combine her love of reading and writing with her passion for gardening.

Mrs. Ries

Mrs. Ries has been an elementary school teacher for fourteen years. She is an Instructional Support Teacher in the Downingtown Area School District. It was such a pleasure for her to come back to Longwood Gardens this summer and teach again. She really enjoyed combining her love of reading and writing with children in such an inspiring setting.
